Funds are being raised for a new classroom at the Howard School in Elford. An event is being held under lighted cover in the garden of the Warren in the Shrubbery at Elford. The evening will start at 7pm with a complimentary glass of Sangria on arrival. There will be a licensed bar with real ale, prosecco, beer, lager, wine and soft drinks.

Tables will be laid out in the tents with nibbles on. Wood fired pizza taster slices will be served while both meat and vegetarian paellas are simmering nearby.

Pictures of the practice night are below;

Music will be organised by Lee Gillam and Morag Dugas, and Alan Davies will also be performing.

There will be a break for the paellas and home made desserts to be served, then the candles will be lit, tent, garden and fountain lights switched on and the music will play. All this for £20.00 a head and it will help build a classroom.
